6 COAL COMPANIES TO GET RECEIVERS; PETITIONS ON FILE

Isabella-Connellsville Coke Company Included in List.

CONTROLLED BY KUHN INTERESTS

Pittsburg Banking Situation is Adjusting Itself and Clearing House Declines Outside Aid; the Depositors Will Not Lose, is the Assertion.

United Press Telegram. PITTSBURGH, July 9.—In the United States court here today receiverships were asked for six subsidiary companies of the American Water Works & Guarantee Company, for which receivers were appointed on Monday following the closing of the First-Second National Bank. Most of the applications were made before Judge Charles F. Orr and were signed by Lucien Hill, a citizen of Maryland. In each case the application was granted, but receivers were not appointed.

The companies affected are the United Coal Company, Pittsburg & Baltimore Coal Company, Somerset-Somerset Coal Company, Isabella-Connellsville Coke Company, Merchants Coal Company and Naam Coal Company.

The Isabella-Connellsville Coke Company has 3,000 acres of coal in Luzerne township, Erie county, just below East Riverdale, on the Monongahela river. The plant consists of 200 ovens, and has been running about half time. Bonds of this company are held by Connellsville, Uniontown and Pittsburg. Investigation of the property is considered exceptionally good. The United Coal Company and the Naam Coal Company holdings are located along the Monongahela river. The Somerset-Somerset, Pittsburg-Baltimore and the Naam coal companies are Somerset county operations.

That the Pittsburg Clearing House is now able to handle matters without outside assistance is evidenced by the fact that an offer of $5,000,000 by the Treasury Department was declined. It is expected the McKeesport bank will adjust its affairs quickly, and with little annoyance to depositors.

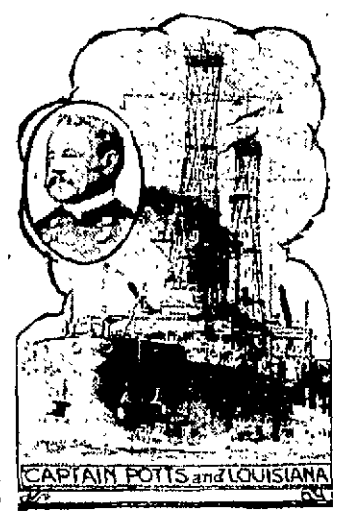

A demand for money at the Pittsburg bank during the day, but lessened very materially in the afternoon from what it was in the morning. Assurance were given that the Clearing House Association would attend to the clearing bank for all the help it might require. The bank's assets are in liquid form and this makes it a simple matter for the other banks to come to its assistance with any amount of cash that may be needed. An examination of the bank's assets was made during the day by representatives of the Clearing House Association and Charles McKelut, president of the Association, said yesterday afternoon:

"We have found in the hurried investigation which we made, that the bank has quick assets of $5,000,000 or $10,000,000 and the Clearing House Association stands ready to offer any assistance that this bank needs. We have not examined all the bank's sources, as we have not had the time to go through all of them, but so far as we have proceeded we find that the bank is in excellent condition, and the Clearing House stands ready to give aid if it is needed."

"There is absolutely no indication of cause for anyone wanting to put the bank out of the way," said the president. "We made a thorough examination and found several serious faults about the bank, but in my opinion these faults have been indicated by getting from the bank platform. Personally I do not believe that the bank was murdered."

John was visited this morning by his mother and sister. To both he expressed his innocence. To newsman he said he loved the girl and had asked her to be his wife. Coroner Marley is arranging for an inquest to be held Thursday afternoon.

NEGRO IS HELD ON SERIOUS CHARGE BY TROTTER GIRL

Joseph Green is Rushed to Jail Following Hearing Before West Side Judge.

For a serious offense alleged to have been committed against a young girl of Trotter, Joseph Green, colored, is now in jail awaiting trial, having been committed yesterday afternoon by Judge P. M. Butterworth of the West Side. Charges against Green were made by Anna Zoloto, who is not yet 15 years old.

The girl alleges that Green attacked her last December. The girl declares that on December 15, Green turned her into an outhouse and attacked her. When Green turned her into the outhouse, she was in a state of indecency, he is alleged to have promised her money, but never paid it.

A preliminary charge was made against the negro before Judge Butterworth and Constable William Ireland brought him in for a hearing yesterday. During the course of the proceedings it was found that the girl was under 16 years of age, and a further information, charging a statutory offense, was sworn out. The negro was held for court and immediately taken to jail.

Since the affair has become known, friends of the little girl are indignant. Feeling, trouble, Constable Ireland hurried the man to jail. He is 35 years old and married.

NO TRACE OF MURDER

Coroner Does Not Think Alice Crispwell Died by Violence.

WILKES-BARRE, July 9.—The result of the autopsy on Miss Alice Crispwell, whose body was found floating in the waters of Harvey's Lake on Monday, and for whose murder her sweetheart, Herbert Johns, is in prison, was announced this morning by Coroner James Marley and Dr. Higgins.

"There is absolutely no indication of cause for anyone wanting to put the girl out of the way," said the coroner. "We made a thorough examination and found several serious faults about the girl, but in my opinion these faults have been indicated by getting from the boat platform. Personally I do not believe that the girl was murdered."

John was visited this morning by his mother and sister. To both he expressed his innocence. To newsman he said he loved the girl and had asked her to be his wife. Coroner Marley is arranging for an inquest to be held Thursday afternoon.

JOKERS ARE OUTDOONE

Plan Trip for Newcomers but Get the Double-Cross.

West Penn employees who planned a great joke on Superintendent A. M. Cartwright and his bride yesterday had the tables turned. After spending days of effort and considerable cash in decorating an auto, in which they planned to carry the newcomers to Greensburg, a dog slipped.

GOVERNOR INSPECTS "FIGHTING TENTH" AT CAMP GRIDLEY

Commander-in-Chief of the Guard Views, Coulter's Men.

OTHER REGIMENTS WILL WAIT

Big Parade of Erie Celebration Delays Inspection by Governor and His Staff; Connellsville Band Plays as the Governor Visits the Troops.

United Press Telegram. CAMP GRIDLEY, Erie, July 9.—Governor Tener, as commander-in-chief of the National Guard of Pennsylvania, inspected the Tenth Regiment of the Second Brigade this morning on his annual tour of field duty.

The Tenth last year led the state, and Col. Richard Coulter's men were on their toes this morning in an effort to duplicate the feat. They were spurred in this direction because of their defeat yesterday, by Colonel G. C. Richards, of the Sixty-ninth Infantry, during the sham battle.

Governor Tener, Colonel Sweeney and Major General Thomas J. Stowart arrived on the grounds early and the inspection began on time. The Governor exhibited a personal interest in the men, not only in the officers but also in the privates.

During the progress of the inspection, music was furnished by the Tenth Regiment Band of Connellsville. Inspections of other regiments, scheduled for today, were postponed on account of the big parade held in Erie in connection with the Perry centennial.

The military parade and an address by Governor Tener featured the Perry centennial celebration this afternoon. The parade was held at 2 o'clock and was participated in by the entire Second Brigade. The Highland Cadets of Pittsburgh and the Sherman Grays of Cleveland also took part.

At 4 o'clock Governor Tener will deliver his address at Perry Square, and tonight the Highland Cadets will perform there. The day will conclude with a grand display of fireworks.

ITALIAN WOMAN INJURED

Becomes Excited and Steps in Front of Trip of Cars.

United Press Telegram. MOUNT PLEASANT, July 9.—Caught by a trip of cars at the Brush Run Coal Company's plant yesterday, Mrs. Collano, an Italian woman, was crushed and painfully injured. She suffered a broken ankle, several broken ribs and scratches and lacerations about the body. Accidents to women about coal mines in the Connellsville region are rare.

The woman was securing a pail of water at the mouth of the mine, when the trip of cars approached. Superintendent John Snodden was standing near at the time, and he asserts that Mrs. Collano stepped and stepped in the path of the trip.

The cars run by gravity and had gone more than 50 feet before they were stopped. The woman was taken to the Memorial Hospital, where it is expected she will recover.

SERBIANS CLAIM VICTORY.

Declare They Have Bitten Bulgars in Fierce Fighting.

United Press Telegram. BELGRADE, July 9.—Losses to the Bulgarians and Serbians during the battles about Kotelnik and Ishib, totaled 35,000, according to reports received today from the front. The Serbians claim to have won a big victory, and information issued by the war office at Sofia tends to bear out the statement.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WANTS THE BUSINESS MEN ON PICNIC

Committee is Named to Urge a Joint Outing at Oakford Park on July 31.

The Union Sunday School picnic will be held at Oakford Park on Thursday, July 31. The date was definitely decided upon last night at a meeting of representatives of the schools at the Y. M. C. A. Aside from setting the date, the committee decided to make a determined effort to secure the support of the merchants. The schools desire to have the merchants join with them, holding their annual outing at the park on the same day.

The matter was placed in the hands of a committee, which is today making a round of the business men. The committee has received several donations of prizes, which will be offered winners in the various athletic events, and have also received the promise of the support of several of the larger stores. Among these are: Wright-Motzer Company, E. W. Harnett, E. Dunn, David Wertheimer, Paul Deibel and Graham & Co. Others will be visited during the day.

That the picnic will be one of the most successful held by the schools now seems assured. The committee in charge of the athletic events is preparing a program of more than ordinary attractiveness. Foot races and other competitions that afford interest to outings of this nature will make up the program.

Those in attendance at the meeting were: H. L. McLaughlin and O. C. Carter, who were assisted by William F. Brooks and W. E. Shaw, Methodist Protestant; G. C. Leaping and D. H. Flick, Trinity Lutheran; W. H. Showman, Christian; Lloyd Shaw and A. K. Dwyer, Baptist.

REGISTRATION DELAYED

Assessors Who Should Have Begun in May Just Starting Now.

Because of a misunderstanding at Uniontown, the Connellsville assessors for the year 1913 have just started. While the assessors should have been making their rounds on May 25, it was not until this week that the books were furnished by the commissioners. The assessors, although they declined to register at Connellsville as a city two years ago, got it into their heads that there would be no need for the register assessors to make their rounds here this year. Consequently no books were ordered, and the assessors have just started their rounds, but when they get to Connellsville, they will find that the books would be furnished, as Connellsville was now a city.

At the request of Mr. West, the assessors looked more carefully into the matter and decided that the voters here must be listed, along with others in the county.

On Monday the seven local assessors were given the necessary registry lists and began their tours of duty. The assessors say that personal registration will not be necessary before next year.

HOMELSS MAN HELD.

Ward, Who Claims No Country as His, Held for Days.

The man of no country was before the burgess last night. He is John Ward. Born in a little island in the sea, midway between Ireland and France, Ward told the burgess he claimed no country as his own.

As there was no danger of violating any rights of foreign countries through Ward's detention, the burgess determined to entertain him as a guest of the borough for 48 hours. During that time Ward will sleep in cell No. 6, where he is not likely to secure possession of any of the moist goods that resulted in his arrest.

Wants $10,000 for Damaged Eye. SOMERSET, July 9.—John T. Kendall yesterday instituted a damage suit against Andrew Horehner to recover $10,000 for an injured right eye alleged to have been sustained in a fight on December 17, 1912. The parties live near Sand Patch.

RETURNS HIS FORFEIT.

Burgess Declines Humberston's Pledge Encounter Was Justified.

Joseph Humberston appeared before Burgess J. L. Evans last night on a charge of fighting. Humberston, who lives in South Connellsville, was in town Monday night listening to the band concert, when he says he was attacked by a youth named Levinson. The fight that followed resulted in the forfeiture of Humberston's license, which he returned to the burgess and permitted him to go.

ALLEGES LOSS IN OPEN MARKET

Whyl Coke Company is Defendant in Action Which Results From Agreement to Handle Output of Local Concern; Judgment in First Suit.

Special to The Courier. UNIONTOWN, July 9.—The Elma-Connellsville Coke Company today filed suit against the Whyl Coke Company, a Uniontown concern, for $10,142.42, of which $5,000 is for coke shipped by the plaintiff and accepted by the defendant during the month of May and which became payable June 25, which the plaintiff alleges the defendant refused to pay. The remaining $5,142.42 is for loss on the sale of coke which the plaintiff claims to have manufactured for the defendant on a contract, which the defendant refused to accept, and which the plaintiff sold on the open market, sustaining the loss of the amount sued for in the connection.

A similar suit was instituted by the Elma-Connellsville company against the same concern in June for coke shipped in April and a small amount which the defendant refused to accept. Yesterday judgment was entered in this suit against the Whyl Company for $10,617.63, and the plaintiff elected to proceed to trial for the remainder of its claim, $1,525.32, loss sustained on the sale of the coke, which the defendant refused to accept, as the plaintiff alleges, in violation of its contract.

Jessie Myers today filed a libel in divorce against Harry Myers on the grounds of desertion. They were married at Stevens City, Pa., on December 21, 1905, and lived there. The libellant now residing in Uniontown.

BROWN GOES UP

Former Local Trolley Official Gets Better Position.

J. W. Brown, from 1903 until 1910 superintendent of transportation for the West Penn Railway Company with headquarters in Connellsville, has just been made assistant general superintendent of the Erie Railroad, a subsidiary of the Public Service Railway of New Jersey, with offices in Newark.

Mr. Brown has been assistant superintendent of transportation for this system since he went there in April, 1912. Between the time he left the West Penn and the date of his joining the New Jersey company's forces, he was superintendent of transportation for the Aurora, Chicago & Elgin railroad.

Mr. Brown is well known in the college and news of his advancement will be welcome to his many friends in this section.

CHARGE IS DROPPED.

McLaughlin Found Already Under Bail for Same Offense.

After a chase that led to the state of Wisconsin, Grover McLaughlin, who was arrested yesterday afternoon at Brownsville, was last night given a hearing before Judge Lawrence Donegan on a serious charge. The charge was that he had committed a crime, which was dropped.

Y. M. C. A. CAMP IS OPEN; GUESTS WILL BE WELCOME

Association Opens Recreation Station Up the Yough for Three Business Men.

Everything will be in readiness tonight for the reception of guests at the Y. M. C. A. camp on the Yough river. Secretary Easer, with assistants, left this morning to handle the equipment which was shipped to the camp over the Western Maryland.

The site is one of the most beautiful spots along the Yough, and the swimming and outing facilities are excellent. There have been erected a large cook shack built from which will be served meals.

Each evening a dinner will be served, for which 35 cents will be charged, but the breakfast and luncheon will be served in a large, airy hall. They will have been erected and all destined to spend a night, week or the remainder of the summer at the Association camp.

One of the advantages of the camp is that it is close to town. It is only a few minutes walk from the end of the South Connellsville street car line, and campers can leave town at night, have supper and a swim with those on the grounds, returning to Connellsville in the morning in plenty of time to go to work.

WANTS THE SERIES

Colkers Willing to Meet the Uniontown Ball Team.

While representatives of the Colkers have been making an effort to arrange for a series of games with the Uniontown Independents, they were surprised this morning to learn through a Uniontown paper that a three-game series between the two teams had been arranged for a side bet of $500. H. C. Hays, president of the Connellsville club, stated this morning that Manager Tom Sileo and himself are anxious to play Uniontown, but he knew nothing of the posting of the side bet.

If arrangements can be made for a series, the games will most likely be played on days other than Saturdays. Hays states that one game can be played on the home ground, one in Uniontown, and if a third is necessary, it will be staged on neutral grounds. Sileo will arrange for a conference with Mont McCormick, manager of the Uniontown aggregation.

Connellsville next Saturday will play Jeannette on the home grounds, and on the following Saturday will cross bats with Scotland.

AUTOISTS CALL MEETING.

Local Club Will Discuss a Club Run on July 17.

A meeting of the Connellsville Automobile Club will be held on the evening of July 17, at which time the members will arrange for the summer outing to be held at one of the parks. At a meeting of the club governors yesterday afternoon the question of conducting a run was discussed, and the members of the board agreed to it.

FRIENDS WORRIED OVER ABSENCE OF VETERAN SHEARER

Has Not Been Heard From Since Reaching Gettysburg.

SEPARATED FROM HIS FRIEND

Went to Celebration With William Rittenour, Who Came Home Because of Illness; Other Veterans Did Not See Man on Grounds.

Because no word has been received from him since he left Connellsville more than a week ago to attend the semi-centennial celebration at Gettysburg, relatives and friends are anxious over Fred Shearer, of South Eighth street, West Side.

Mr. Shearer, in company with William Rittenour of Vanderbit, left for Gettysburg on the morning of Sunday, June 29, one day ahead of the members of William F. Kurtz Post No. 13, C. A. R. He remained with Mr. Rittenour until Monday, when the Vanderbit man became ill and was obliged to return home. Since then nothing has been heard of Shearer.

The missing man is 73 years of age and has one daughter, Mrs. Hattie Miller, with whom he made his home. He was not strong, being afflicted with the disabilities attending advanced years. Mrs. Miller is more alarmed on account of the safety of her parent because he has not been in the habit of remaining away from home for any length of time. During the last 20 years, the longest period he was ever away was three days.

Because of the great crowds in attendance at the celebration, friends of Mr. Shearer believe he secured a tent a considerable distance from where they were located. They did not see him during the encampment and when they returned home believed that he had returned before them.

They believe his body will be among the sick who remained in the hospital tents. It is pointed out that if he became ill, or if anything serious occurred to him, his friends and relatives would have been notified. Each veteran was given an identification tag, which was affixed to the coat lapel.

The missing man was a member of Company D, 142nd regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers.

He was rushed to the hospital where every possible effort was made to save his life. He was 24 years old and had been in the employ of the West Penn Company for about three years.

SOCIETY.

Bryner-Cartwright.
Dainty pink and white appointments prevailed at the wedding of Miss Jessie Kaye Bryner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bryner, and Allen North Cartwright, solemnized yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the bride in the presence of about twenty-five guests (including only the members of the two families). It was one of the prettiest home weddings solemnized here in years. The beautiful Episcopal church service was read by Rev. J. L. Frouth, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Immediately at the hour set for the ceremony the bridal party entered the living room to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Pearl Keefe. First came the maid of honor, Miss Marie Bryner, a sister of the bride, followed by the bride and her father by whom she was given in marriage. Before a banking of ferns and Killarney roses whose petals were scattered on the aisle, the ceremony was performed, and the bride and groom were joined by the best man, Howard F. Ferguson of Pittsburg, and the minister, Darling the ceremony. Next came the bride's father and following it, Mendelssohn's wedding march was played.

The bride wore a dainty gown of white chiffon belted at the waist with Valenciennes lace and high crystal necktie. She carried a shower bouquet of white brides' roses and lilies of the valley, tied with white ribbon. The maid of honor wore a white embroidered gown, with a pink sash. The draped skirt was caught with a chain of pink ribbon. She carried a shower bouquet of white brides' roses and lilies of the valley, tied with white ribbon. Covers for twelve were laid at the bride's table in the dining room. The centerpiece was a low mound of Killarney roses intermingled with maidenhair fern. Extending from the chandelier to two corners of the table was pink tie terminating in large bows. At the opposite corners were small white colonial lamps capped with dainty pink shades. The place cards were attractive hand-dainted affairs adorned with cupids and slippers of pink rose buds. The names of the guests were done in gold. Tall vases of pink Killarney roses and French baskets of daisies were artistically arranged in all the rooms of the house. The bridegroom is a native of Connellsville. Deployed in a room on the second floor were many handsome wedding gifts including silver sets, linens, cut glass, clocks, hand-painted china, a handsome lamp, a set of the maps of the power department of the West Penn Railway Company, and other useful gifts. power of the West Penn Railway Company. Mr. and Mrs. Cartwright left last night for a wedding trip to New York, Lake George and Atlantic City. A large delegation of friends accompanied them to the train and a party of about 15 went as far as Scotland, Pa. In Greensburg they were met by West Penn employees and given a royal send-off. They will be at home at No. 281 Cedar avenue after September 1.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cartwright of Pittsburg, parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Simpson, Mr. Henry Cartwright, Williamsburg; Mrs. H. C. Russell of Castle Shannon; Mrs. W. M. Garwood, Brownsville; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gillespie, Park, Mount Pleasant; Mrs. John Brown, Pittsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Bryner, Homestead.

Mr. Leitch is a well known business man of Oakmont and is a nephew of Dr. Leitch of Pittsburg. No date has been set for the wedding. Miss Barham is an expert swimmer having won a prize at the P. A. ## ALABAMA COKE OUTPUT

Amount Manufactured in 1912 Valued at Eight Million Dollars.
Alabama's output of coke in 1912 amounted to 2,375,521 short tons, valued at $8,098,412, against 12,761,321 short tons, valued at $7,593,554, in 1911, according to E. W. Parker, of the United States Geological Survey. The increase in 1912 was 213,068 tons, and $504,818 in value. Alabama retained in 1912 second place in the rank of coke-producing states, having superseded West Virginia in 1911.

The average price per ton for Alabama coke has declined from $2.82 in 1910 to $2.75 in 1911 and $2.72 in 1912. This does not necessarily indicate an actual decline in the price of coke. A large proportion, possibly over 90 per cent of Alabama's coke is consumed in furnaces which are owned by the same interests owning and operating the coal mines and coke ovens, and the placing of a value on the coke is largely a matter of accounting. The value per ton of the coke produced in 1912 was lower in spite of the fact that the value of the coke used advanced from $1.28 in 1911 to $1.25 in 1912.

That Alabama has developed her coking industry along the lines of modern practice is evinced by the fact that in each of the last three years the only new ovens under construction on December 31 were retort ovens, none of the wasteful beehive type having been installed.

Moreover, during 1912 there were 191 beehive ovens abandoned. The number of retort ovens on the other hand, increased from 349 in 1911 to 629 in 1912, and there were 100 additional retort ovens under construction at the end of the year.

ORE RECORDS BROKEN

Lake Shipments This Year Will Reach High Totals.
The Great Lakes iron ore fleet that arrived at lower lake ports Thursday was well cleaned up Thursday night, and few vessels were forced to remain over the holiday. A number of carriers which arrived Saturday were held over until Monday morning, so that a great amount of ore is ahead at Lake Erie ports. The situation is complicated by the short supply.

Offerings of coal tonnage are liberal as cargoes are scarce. The mines not working on Friday and Saturday. Vessels bunching at Lake Erie ports and some of them waiting for coal, have made a shortage in the ore trade and some of the ore shippers may have to charter with tonnage to catch up on their schedules. Heavy weather also has interfered somewhat with operating the fleet.

One shipment during June was 574,444 gross tons, as against 7,597,555 gross tons for June, 1912, an increase of 496,359 gross tons. The increase over shipments for June, 1911, is 3,154,448 gross tons and over June, 1910, which up to that time was the record movement for an early month, 577,852 gross tons. It is likely the June movement will reach 6,000,000 tons, and the expected 50,000,000-ton movement for the season will be attained easily.

A THOROUGH TEST.

One to Convince the Most Skeptical Connellsville Reader.
The test of time is the test that counts.
Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action. The following case is typical. Connellsville residents should be convinced.

The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete.
Testimony like this cannot be ignored.
Mrs. J. A. Comp, 710 Pittsburg St., Scottsdale, Pa., says: "I was troubled by kidney complaint and backache for years and as time passed, I became worse. Although I had but little faith in advertised remedies, I finally used Doan's Kidney Pills. The first few doses gave me relief and from that time on I steadily improved until I was better in every way. I have no need of a kidney remedy since. My former condition still holds good."

For sale by all dealers. Price 30 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.—Adv.

FIFTEEN MINE VICTIMS.

Coroner's Report Shows Only Five from Frick Plants.
A misprint crept into the June report of Coroner H. J. Bell yesterday. Instead of 15 fatalities in mines of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, there were but five.

The mines of the county claimed a total of 15 during the month.

The News of Nearby Towns.

SMITHFIELD.

SMITHFIELD, July 8.—The last of Smithfield's contingent arrived home from Gettysburg Saturday evening. They report a worrisome time getting out of the town. They had to stand for three hours at the depot in Gettysburg in a jam that was packed like sardines in a box for several hundred feet along the track, many of them about exhausted before they got on their train. Samuel Wilson, the only one of the number that went from here who got sick and was put in the camp hospital, got back Sunday evening. He came over with his son, Charles Wilson of Dunbar, in his auto. Charles was there during the entire encampment, and in this connection we want to express the appreciation of the comrades going from Smithfield to him for the service rendered to them at the great reunion. He came to their quarters twice each day, taking four comrades in his auto out over the battlefield until he had taken them all over the battlefields of both armies which are 25 miles long, and for this grand tour of eighting and intense interest to the boys. He refused to take a cent as remuneration. The same trip in a hired conveyance would have cost from $1.50 to $2.00 for each person.

Mr. Wilson is a genial gentleman. He seemed to enjoy the bustle of this fever as much as the recipients of it did, and they will always hold him in grateful remembrance for it. Such acts of unselfish kindness by all having the welfare and comfort of the comrades in view contributed largely in making this the grandest picnic ever held or that will ever be held again on this continent. A whole week in a lovely city, brilliantly lighted through the length and breadth of its hundred streets by electric arc lights. Water lines with hydrants connected from which to get an abundant supply of pure water and commissary departments from which to draw beef, ham and eggs, bread, potatoes, rice, vegetables, sugar, tea and coffee, butter and milk, all of the first quality, prepared by experienced chefs, and dished up to you three times a day until you would say enough.

Compare this to the fare you had in your soldier days from '61 to '65. Then you got hard tack and coffee and a slice of bacon and sometimes hard-tack with the coffee, and often times neither of the above ingredients, then you would have to contract your stomach as General Lee's men did during the last days of the war by eating green persimmons to fill your ration; and Gettysburg will tell you that the accommodations were very poor. They didn't have no feather pillows on your cot as they averted the government had agreed to furnish and no china was used for cups, saucers, plates and dessert dishes.

CONNELLSVILLE COKE.

The coke industry of the United States, which started in the Conneltsville region on an insignificant scale a little over a half century ago, now does a business valued at over $100,000,000 annually, and the Conneltsville region is still the center and a large portion of the circumference of the trade.

According to the United States Geological Survey, the total production of coke in the country for the year 1912 was 43,216,834 tons, valued at $111,523,336, an increase of 8,395,345 tons in quantity and $27,525,487 in value over the preceding year. Pennsylvania produced 27,312,018 tons, valued at $66,064,175, or approximately one-half of the production of the United States. This increase over 1911 was 23,857% in quantity and 30.2% in value.

The Conneltsville and Lower Conneltsville regions produced 25,000,373 tons of coke valued at $58,401,675. If we add to this the production of the Upper Conneltsville and Greensburg-Conneltsville districts of approximately 40,000 tons per week, we have an output of 25,050,000 tons, valued at $58,441,675. It will, therefore, be seen that the Conneltsville field produces over half the coke manufactured in the country, and that Pennsylvania produces nearly two-thirds of the total. Referring to this fact the American Metal Market says:

"As a producer of coke Pennsylvania is relatively of greater importance than as a producer of coal, for whereas, including the production of anthracite, Pennsylvania contributes less than half the entire output of coal in the United States, nearly two-thirds the total production of coke is made within that state. Pennsylvania has, however, not progressed as fast as some other states in the matter of conserving the by-products of coke making. All but a very small quantity of the state's coke is made in beehive ovens or in rectangular ovens in which the process is one of partial combustion. As in the beehive ovens and without the recovery of by-products and utilization of the heat generated in the cooling process."

Connellsville coke is the finest furnace fuel in the world, yet the above statistics show that while the Conneltsville region produces approximately one-half the coke of the country it receives but 37% of the value of the total output, and that Pennsylvania with a production approximating 55% of the nation's total receives but 30% of the total value. This condition is not due to the merit or the value of the coke of other districts and states, but to the fact that a large portion of the coke output of other states is marketed at the plant and consequently commands a higher value at the ovens.

The big by-product plants at Gary and Joliet import their coal from West Virginia and Illinois, and some of it from the Conneltsville region. Their coke costs are high, but their coke prices are high because their coke is delivered at the point of consumption. When Conneltsville coke is selling for $2.50 at the ovens, which is the value recorded in the above statistics, its value in the Chicago market is $2.50—freight $2.50—$5.00 per ton, which is the extant value of by-product coke at Gary and Joliet and all other plants in the Chicago district. The method of competition is responsible for the illusive statistics which are calculated to give the impression that other coals are more valuable than Conneltsville coke, when as a matter of fact Conneltsville coke on equal terms always commands the highest price because of its superior quality.

It is true that Pennsylvania has not progressed as fast as some of the other states in the matter of conserving the by-products of coke, but in the Conneltsville region at least this has been due to several reasons any one of which would be sufficient to bar such progress. Progress is sometimes more costly than profitable. The chief by-products of coke are gas and waste heat. Most of the by-product plants utilize both these in their furnaces and mills. The only furnaces in the Conneltsville region are at Dunbar, and there also is the only by-product coke plant in the region. By-product plants are expensive. They represent investments running up to and into the millions. Interest and depreciation represent a substantial charge against their coke costs. The marketing of the by-products is an important consideration to successful operation. The Conneltsville operators have not been able to see the profit in such an investment, especially those whose supplies of coke coal are limited. The by-product oven is only possible in a new field and a new operation, yet in Greene county saw and steel interests shipping the coal to their mills where they have erected by-product ovens.

The by-product oven is perhaps a proper adjunct to the plant, but Conneltsville coke will continue to be burned in beehive or rectangular ovens and will continue to be used by furnacemen within reach of the Conneltsville field.

THE RIGHT OF WAY.

The Washington Observer voices an earnest protest against a condition which is similar in Conneltsville and demands similar remedies. The Observer says:

"The narrow escape of the fire department truck from a collision with a street car a few days ago, suggests the need of a borough ordinance regulating street traffic during the rush of the truck in answer to fire alarms. The ordinance should provide that all street cars should stop and that automobiles should pull to one side and also stop on the approach of the truck, so that it may have free right of way without the possibility of being interfered with."

"Many desperate chances have been taken on several occasions by drivers of vehicles, who keep moving while the fire truck is passing. Such proposed regulation is not only for the protection of those who travel but for the fire fighters themselves, who take many chances with their lives. They ought not to be required to accept even more through lack of traffic regulations."

"The regulation of the tariff of the street cars and automobiles at congested corners is also one which must receive greater consideration at the hands of our officers for the protection of the lives of the occupants of the cars and particularly of pedestrians." The fire truck should always have the right of way over streets in its progress to a fire. Its business is more urgent than that of any other vehicle, with the possible exception on rare occasions of the ambulances. There should be an ordinance compelling all other traffic to draw aside and halt pending the passage of the fire truck. Such ordinance should provide heavy penalties, and they should be strictly and impartially applied. The suggestion concerning congested corners is also worthy of the consideration of the Conneltsville authorities.

It is becoming a serious question in McKeesport whether the Baltimore & Ohio railroad is maintaining safety gates for the protection of the people or the railroad. There are in the Conneltsville hospital two brakemen who were injured in a collision with a horse and wagon. The driver and his horse and wagon escaped unhurt. The caboose in which the trainmen were riding was smashed. It is not known whether the injured brakemen will sue the railroad or the horse and wagon for damages.

The Fayette county school teachers are being rounded up.

The Pittsburgh bank situation is clearing up rapidly, and when the affairs of the Kuhn clear up it will probably be found that their extensive water and electrical interests have no connection and are not involved in the suspension of the bank that has closed its doors and gone into liquidation.

The Federal Bureau of Mines has undertaken a survey of the conditions under which the coal miners of the country work and live with a view to making such recommendations as to their betterment as may seem wise and proper. The bureau will find some fine examples of good conditions in the Conneltsville coke region.

Paper money will be smaller in size, but it will probably be just as hard to get.

The competitive lighting company which secured a franchise in Mount Pleasant about a year ago does not seem to seriously compete. The authorities have just renewed a public lighting contract for five years with the West Penn.

According to his report, June was Coroner Bell's busy month.

The Greene county court house scandal has forced the resignation of a commissioner, a clerk and a janitor. Democratic officeholders have been known to die over in Greene county, but never to resign. Two commissioners are hanging on yet and announce their purpose of continuing until cast forth by process of law.

In malicious society the hen does all the brooding and the rooster all the crowing.

South Conneltsville insists upon a smokeless atmosphere; and it isn't a Democratic town, either.

The Fayette and Westmoreland photographers' picnic will be a snappy affair.

The gallant Tooth has seen some hard campaigning at Erie, but according to the latest advices it has not given up the ship.

The more convenient and easy of access the Conneltsville merchants' picnic is, the more attractive and the more successful it will be.

The Conneltsville School Board reflected its old officers. It is a good plan to continue good officers. As they gain in experience they increase in efficiency.

Connellsville is promised another fine church edifice which will be an ornament to the city. A community is known by the churches it keeps.

The personnel and possibilities of the Public Health Commission will soon be on exhibition.

Electricity has done much to improve the conditions and advance the efficiency of coal mining, but a long step further will have been taken if the practical electric pit lamp had finally been invented.

The production of coal, coke, iron ore, pig iron and finished steel reached record proportions in 1912. It was a Republican year.

Ponderous Personages.

MARK ANTONY.

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Swash."

Mary Antony's real name was Marcus Antonius, but he was a jolly good fellow and even his political opponents called him Mark. He was the grandson of old Marcus Antonius who was one of the greatest orators whom Rome ever produced and who never ate a meal at home during the public dinner season.

It will thus be seen that Mark came of a good family. He got a fine education and picked up all the knowledge that a college boy with a big income can acquire. As a result he started out in life with a good knowledge of Latin, a fine back-stroke with a short sword, an irresistible way with woman, and a thirst which began when he awoke and stayed right on the job.

Mark was born in 86 B. C., and when a very young man helped Caesar eradicate the barbarians in Gaul. He then came home and, because he came of a good family and was good looking, he got himself elected Tribune, which was a fine job and carried a lot of patronage. About this time the Roman Senate tried to get Caesar home in order to give him the grand bouce and appoint a friend of the administration and Mark lobbied so successfully for Caesar that the latter was able to come home with his whole army and chase the Senate back into the foothills.

Mark now became Governor of Italy and everyone admitted that he was a coming man. He was a great rounder by this time and his secretary often had to hunt through a dozen wine-shops and secluded gardens in order to find him and get an appropriation bill signed. While Antony was enjoying himself, Caesar was assassinated and Cassius and Brutus got ready to take over the government. But they reckoned without Antony. He was planning a case of bromide pellets and minor waters. Antony sobered up a day earlier than usual and at Caesar's funeral he delivered an oration which has already gone into the 1,000th edition. It carried the people by storm, and Cassius and Brutus slipped a taxi and beat it for obscurity. Antony followed them with an army.

and after they had been disposed of, he, Octavius and Lepidus, who controlled the labor vote, formed a limited liability company and grabbed Rome.

Antony and Octavius soon enmeshed Lepidus out of his share and divided the empire among themselves. Antony took the east half and went to Egypt where he met up with a prominent divorcee named Cleopatra and let his office boy run the empire while he floated around in a canoe at night with his inamorata and made up songs with a guitar accompaniment.

All this time Octavius, whose sister had married Antony, was getting mad.

"An oration which has already gone into the 1,000th edition."

der and madder and presently he came over with plenty of ammunition to speak to Antony as a brother-in-law. Antony had a date with Cleopatra and told his generals to go to thunder and let him ring off when they tried to call him up. His army was beaten, his navy sunk, and Antony killed himself to escape serious consequences.

The death of Antony should teach us all that when we have talents we should not soak them in alcohol. Nothing corrodes a talent so much as alcohol.

HAIR CAME OUT IN HANDFULS

Eczema on Face, Back of Ears and Scalp. Also on Hands, Arms and Limbs. Itching and Burning. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

6025 St. Marie St., Pittsburgh, Pa.—"Four years ago I had a breaking out on my skin, some on my face, back of my ears and on my scalp which was the worst place, and it caused my hair to come out. It was also on my hands, arms and limbs. They said it was a form of eczema. I had that awful burning and itching and especially on my scalp. The eruption was like a rash and would get dry and scale off. It itched and burned so badly that I could not keep from scratching it. Everything that I touched it irritated. I could not rest at night and would scratch in my sleep. My hair came out in handfuls. I could not put my hands in water often, for that only made the trouble worse and made the itching crack open. I used a medicine for almost a year without a cure. So one day I thought I would try the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, as I had seen by the papers of cures by them. I washed the affected parts with the Cuticura Soap and then applied the Cuticura Ointment. They relieved the burning and itching almost immediately, and by using every day the eczema continued to improve and in one month I was cured and have never had a return of the trouble and it is more than three years since that time." (Signed) Miss E. R. Johnston, Mar. 25, 1913.

Cuticura Soap 25c, and Cuticura Ointment 50c, are sold everywhere. Liberal sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment sent on request. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

INTERESTING PAPERS

Are Found in Possession of a Southfield Man.

SOUTHFIELD, July 9.—Among some old papers in the possession of John Bare, Sr., the following is of interest:

"Office of the United States Deputy Marshall for the County of Fayette at Springfield, Tenn., July 12, 1861: To John Wiggle: Take notice that you have been enrolled as a citizen within the Township of Springfield in the said county, liable to military service. If you claim exemption from any cause, the claim will be received and determined by the commissioners to be appointed for that purpose for this county at such time and place as he shall specify by handbills to be posted in said township." Thomas W. Lyons, Deputy Marshall.

Another is a birth record of John Wiggle, above named, and reads: "John Wiggle, son of Samuel and Sarah Wiggle, born October 18, 1824."

Another is a receipt, October 22, 1853, received of Mr. John Wiggle three dollars in full of account today. S. Dunn & Co.

All the parties named in the above were citizens of near, and a residence in this community and have long since passed to their reward. Thomas W. Lyons was a prominent farmer of Springfield township. Simeon Dunn was a resident and merchant in this town. John Wiggle, who was called "Old Black Hawk," lived a hermit life in the old stone school house on York Run in Nicholson township, and was reported to have considerable treasure concealed about his house for which an attempt was made on his life on two different occasions. The first was when a party would kill him near his home and beat him severely. The second time a shot was fired at him through a window. In neither case did the assailants get any money, and they were never apprehended. He died a few years ago. William Wiggle a nephew, inherited his estate.

Not Contracts for Buildings.
SOMERSET, July 9.—The Somerset township school board yesterday awarded contracts for four new school buildings. Frank S. Lawrence was the bidder on the four buildings, a four-room structure south of town, Granger & Auman got the other three buildings.

Words of Praise
For Mayr's Wonderful
For Stomach Remedy.

"How thankful we are to you for getting a hold of your Wonderful Remedy. My wife could not have had but a short time to live if she had not taken your Wonderful Remedy. My wife who died. One more of those paroxysms of pain she was having would have killed her without a doubt. Now she is free from all pain. Free from heart trouble and free from that disturbing Neuralgia—all the results of five treatments—and the expulsion of five or six hundred Gall Stones. Now she is able to eat anything she wants and her appetite is good and before taking your medicine she had no appetite and when she ate anything she would suffer death for so doing and could not sleep at night; since taking your treatment she sleeps well all night long." T. A. Neath, Hooke, Penn.

The above letter should convince you more than anything we could say in behalf of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. Sufferers should try one dose of this remedy—one dose should convince them that they can be restored to health. Neuralgia, Stomach Ailments are caused by the clogging of the intestinal tract with mucus and catarrhal secretions allowing poisonous fluids into the stomach and thus causing the deranging the digestive system. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy not only removes these secretions without a surgical operation and puts an end to Colic Attacks, Gases in the Stomach and Intestines and all of the usual symptoms of Stomach, Liver and Intestinal Ailments. Ask your druggist about Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Chemist, 14 Chicago St., Chicago, Ill., for free booklet on Stomach Ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored.

The WOMAN

A Novel by Albert Payson Terhune

Founded on
William C. de Mille's Play
Illustrated with Photos from the Play and Drawings by V. L. Banks

"I didn't say you had been—"
"No. But you thought it. Just because I don't run around in circles, barking, and now and then taking a piece out of the ceiling, you think I'm doing nothing. And I'll never back you any better."

"Oh, yes. I put a man of my own in to Standish's record. I told him not to bother about anything that had happened during the last three or four years. Your room would be busy on that; and there'd be nothing to find, anyhow. I set my man to scratching up ancient history. I told him to go back and back and back, in Standish's record; and to keep on going back till he found something."

"Well?" chorused the others as Blake passed and searched his clothes with meddlesome slowness for a match.

"Well," drawled Blake, "he's found it."

"Not," chuckled Nelligan, wildly.

"The story is long," said Blake; "but I can shorten it up considerably for you. Along about five years ago friend Standish fell in love with a girl. Right sort of a girl, you know. Good family. Father rich and all that. Standish wasn't very well off—he was always lay at most. What good—"

"What good?" retorted Blake. "Just this: Standish's long suit is morality. A lot of us have had snatches on our noses from time to time. He never has. So the clergy are for him and the people cheer by him. It's his chief point with both church and people. Now—if we can get this story, properly authenticated, on the floor of the house tonight, it'll give a lot of men—Greek, brown, for instance—some cause to swing over to us."

"Oh, we've got him! We've got him!" muttered Robertson once more, his usually quick mind leaping ahead of the single grand idea.

"Yes," answered Van Dyke dryly, "we've got him—if we can get the Woman's name in time. It all depends on that. Without it, our story is worthless. Thus far, it seems, no one knows her name."

"Except Standish," corrected Blake.

"What good does that do us? He won't tell."

"What one man knows," returned Blake sententiously, "another can find out."

"And," put in Gregg, lowering his voice, "speaking of finding out," reminds me. That little devil of a telephone girl over there—Do you suppose she could have heard anything we've been saying?"

"If she has a whole pair of ears," answered Blake, sinking his own voice, "she surely could. Especially if I've been saying, 'For I've been straining my voice to talk loud enough for her to catch what I said, ever since we sat down here.'"

"The voice you have!" exclaimed Van Dyke. "What for?"

"For the same reason I've been 'laying down,'" returned Blake. "Don't worry over that. A man whose voice is as tired as mine isn't straining that throat unless it's for a good cause. And you can leave the finding of the Woman's name to me, too, I guess. Now trot along, all of you. Mark, go in and order dinner. I'll be there in five minutes. I've a couple of things to attend to first."

The group began to drift across the corridor in the direction of the dining-room. Blake detached himself from the rest and started back toward the telephone switchboard. But Tom, noting his father's move, intercepted him. The young fellow's face looked worried and his manner had lost some of its wonted buoyancy.

"Dad," he said.

"Hoy?" asked Blake, stopping and turning toward his son.

Reading Tom's face, as he was accustomed by instinct to read every countenance that came into his range of notice, Jim nodded and led the way to the amen corner.

"Now, then," he demanded, belligerently, half-anxiously, "what's on your mind? Speak up, son. There never yet was a delicate subject that wasn't the better for getting aired."

CHAPTER VI.

"This—this story about Standish"—began Tom uncomfortably; but paused involuntarily as Blake leaned back with a grunt of relief.

"That all?" asked the father. "I was afraid I was going to get another call-down from my wise son on my follies and sins. Honestly, Tom, I don't know how I ever got through the first quarter-century of my life without your holy guidance and correction."

"Is that quite necessary?" said Tom.

"I only wanted to ask you—"

"Of course you did. You wanted to ask me some question in politics. And instead of being glad that you are beginning to show an intelligent interest in my affairs at last, I made fun of you. I'm sorry, son. I'm an old crank. Go ahead with your question. You were asking about this Standish story?"

"Yes. I suppose it will give us the fight."

"Looks that way from where I sit," replied Blake. "Such pretty romances have wrecked many a man as strong as Standish—and stronger."

"Oh!" exclaimed Tom, almost shrugging. "I wish you wouldn't use blackmail to win your fight."

"Blackmail?" echoed Blake slowly.

Then he paused. The rugged mask of a face had not changed. But the pupils of the half-shut eyes had suddenly contracted as though a blinding light had been flashed before them. Yet, a second later, when Blake spoke again, there was no trace of pain or resentment in his dry drawing voice.

"Blackmail?" he said once more.

"How about the way Standish dragged up that franchise affair of mine last year? What was that but blackmail?"

"Well," demanded Tom, in the stark mercilessness of youth, "you were stealing the franchise, weren't you, dad?"

"Yes," asserted Blake with a delightful absence of all false modesty. "I sure was. And I was doing it neatly, too. Not a ripple, not a kick, till Standish butted in with his measly reformers and queered the whole job and cost us a half million dollars. Son, every time I think of that, I want to chase some one with an ax. I don't lie awake nights thinking how cunning our friend Standish would look with sawwood in his hair and sand under his nails. But I keep that franchise memory and a few others fresh on the loe. And it sure doesn't break my heart to have a chance now of getting back at him."

"But," persisted Tom, "that was a public matter. It doesn't justify you in dragging his private life into the limelight."

"The deuce it doesn't? Who told you that?"

"My self-respect."

"Oh! I thought maybe you might have got the tip from some reliable source. Go ahead, son. Doesn't justify me, hey?"

"No, dad. If you want truth, it doesn't. It isn't clean!"

"Clean? Say, son, this is politics. Not a prayer-meeting. You've got in the wrong pew."

"If the right pew justifies dirty work like that," flashed the boy, "I'm glad I have. And I want to stay there. This business of making political capital of a man's dead-and-buried sins is enough to turn the stomach of a camel. A thousand times more so when one considers the Woman."

"Well," queried Blake, in high good humor, as he always was when he could stir up a quarrel between his adored only son and himself. "What about her?"

"Everything. She made a fool of herself. Presumably when she was young. She has probably repented it bitterly, ten thousand times. She may have atoned for what she did. She may even be a wife and mother, now. Respected, loved. All the world and Heaven, besides, to her husband and children. And, just to pass a rotten railroad bill, you are going to drag her out into the glare of the newspaper world and crucify her! You are going to strip from her her husband's love; you are going to make her friends shun her as an outcast; you're throwing black shame on her innocent children's name. You are—"

BUFFALO FURNACES KEEP UP FIGHT ON HIGH COKE RATES

Get a Rehearing on the Decision in the Wickwire Case.

SAY THEY ARE BADLY CRIPPLED

Increased Tariff Disastrous to Users of Connellsville Coke, It is Averred; Claim the Manufacturers of That District Are Being Penalized.

The Buffalo furnaces have secured a rehearing in the Wickwire Steel Company case, decided May 23, last, finding that the present freight rates on coke from the Connellsville and neighboring coke regions to the Buffalo mills and furnaces are not excessive. The rate is $1.35. Prior to April 1, 1910, the rate on furnace coke was only $1.65. In 1901 and 1902 the rate was $1.50 which complainants held to be reasonable. The complainants include the Wickwire Steel Company, the Buffalo Union Furnace Company, the Tonawanda Iron & Steel Company, the New York State Steel Company and the Lackawanna Steel Company.

The petitioners say the effect of the decision is a serious blow to the coke industry at Buffalo and that since the increased rate on coke went into effect little or no profit has been made by manufacturers of pig iron at Buffalo who depend on the Connellsville region for their supply. It is further pointed out that the result of the decision is not only to increase the cost of production of pig iron at that point, but to put the petitioners at a disadvantage in the market with competitors, whose rates have not been increased.

In reopening the case it is the announced purpose of the complainants to show the effect of the increased rate upon the pig iron industry at Buffalo, both as to the cost of manufacture, as compared with competitors, and as to the opportunity of refunding in the market, which heretofore they have been able to reach in competition with other pig iron producers. The effect of the decision of the commission is also to penalize the manufacturers of pig iron at Buffalo, while the increased rate on the petitioners cannot benefit the Eastern Pennsylvania manufacturers.

It is claimed the commission should have found, if it decided the case against the petitioners, in the affirmative, namely: That the increased rate was just and reasonable. This finding was not made. It is stated, "for the very good reason that there was absolutely no evidence in the record, and none is referred to in the decision of the commission, which even tended to show that the rate was just and reasonable."

The Pennsylvania railroad, it is stated, offered the only evidence in an effort to justify the increased rate, showing a comparison of its own rates from the Connellsville region to Buffalo with its rates from the Connellsville region principally to Eastern Pennsylvania furnaces, which the intrastate rates and, therefore, the only evidence that the commission could have used in justification of the rate would be that the Pennsylvania charged Eastern Pennsylvania furnaces high rate on coke from the Connellsville region for a haul entirely within Pennsylvania, that it charged on coke from Connellsville to Buffalo.

It is stated that it appears the case was decided against the petitioners upon the theory of the construction of a coke rate map in other cases, to which the petitioners were not parties. Referring to the position of the commission, in connection with this map, that the cases must be considered together, the petitioners say:

"It would be hard to torture this impression with the views of the Supreme Court, which would seem to authorize the commission to take notice of results reached by it in other cases when its doing so is made to appear in the record, and the facts thus noticed are specified, so that matters of law are saved."

LARGE COKE PRODUCTION

More Than 2,500,000 Tons Manufactured in Indiana in 1912.

The production of coke in Indiana in 1912 amounted to 2,514,389 short tons, valued at $12,523,935. The yield of coal in coke was the highest attained in the United States, 5.18 per cent, according to E. W. Parker of the United States Geological Survey. With the completion and putting in operation of the 600 Ruppert ovens by the United States Steel Corporation at Gary, Indiana, in 1912, advanced to third place among the coke producing states, displacing West Virginia, Illinois and Colorado. Indiana's production in 1912 exceeded that of West Virginia by about 150,000 tons, and was only about 360,000 tons less than that of Alabama. It is probable that within two years, if not in 1915, Indiana will supplant Alabama as the second coke state, as at the close of 1912 there were 1,000 retorts open in the course of construction.

In addition to the ovens at Gary, there were 50 United Otto ovens operated by the Citizens Gas Company at Indianapolis, and during the year 33 Klomke ovens were completed by the Central Indiana Gas Company at Muncie. As the names of these operating companies indicate, the gas from the plants is furnished to the city mains. The Klomke ovens are heated by producer gas made from the coke in products in front of and below the ovens. Gas coal from the Toughhenny district is used in the ovens and the coke is marketed for domestic consumption. The coal used at Gary and at Indianapolis is chiefly from West Virginia.

SMASHES COKE RECORD

Pennsylvania Output in 1912 Was Over 27,000,000 Tons.

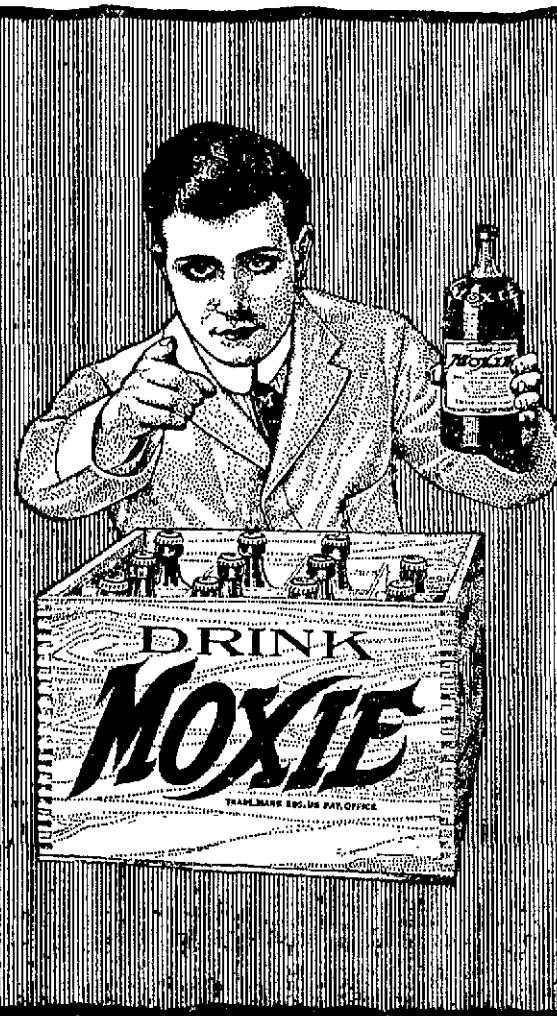

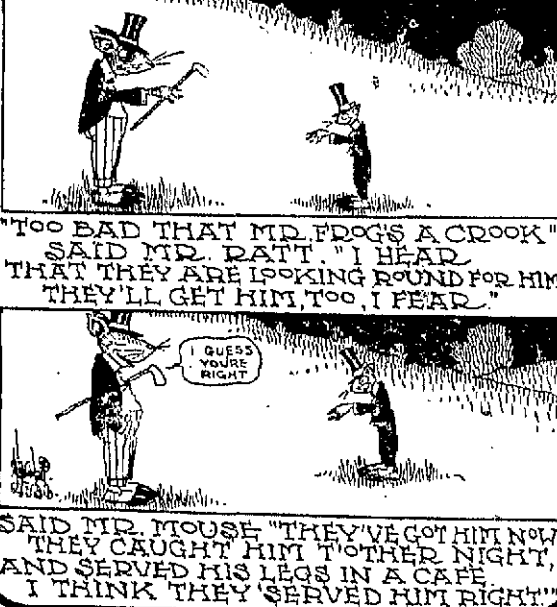

Pennsylvania stands pre-eminent among the states in production of coal and in the manufacture of coke. The quantity of coke produced in the state in 1912 was 27,372,513 short tons, valued at $56,054,473, against 24,957,995 tons, valued at $49,063,307, in 1911, according to Edward W. Parker, of the United States Geological Survey.

The increase in 1912, compared with 1911, was 5,448,518 short tons, or 23.55 per cent, in value. The quantity of coke made in 1912 was the largest on record, exceeding the previous maximum of 26,613,214 tons in 1907 by 558,804 short tons, but falling behind the earlier year in value by $11,585,546.

As a producer of coke Pennsylvania is relatively of greater importance than as a producer of coal, for whereas, including the production of anthracite, Pennsylvania contributes less than half the entire output of coal in the United States, nearly two-thirds the total production of coke is made within that state.

Pennsylvania has, however, not progressed as fast as some other states in the matter of conserving this by-product of coke making. All but a very small quantity of the state's coke is made in beehive ovens or in rectangular ovens in which the process is one of partial combustion, as in the beehive ovens, and without recovery of by-products or utilization of the heat generated in the coking process.

AFTER RIOTERS

Arrests to Follow Shooting of Miners Along Cabin Creek.

United Press Telegram.

CHARLESTON, July 9.—Sheriff Bonner Hill today sent reinforcements to the Ohney mine on Cabin creek, where more than 1,000 shots were fired last night by strikers during a riot. Warrants were issued today for the arrest of six men who were identified among the crowd of rioters.

The attacking party was made up of strikers from other mines. It is not believed that any of the employees of the Ohney colliery participated in the fracas. No deaths have been reported.

Governor Hatfield this morning notified Sheriff Hill that the civil authorities must exhaust every means at their command to maintain peace before the military authorities are called upon to interfere.
